Forces Legislature of Missouri to Stick to One-Man, One Vote

By ROY MALONE
Associated Press Writer
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Paul W. Preisler is a 67-year-old crusader who won't take no for an answer when it comes to the one-man, one-vote principle.

Three times he has successfully filed suits forcing the Missouri Legislature to remap state congressional districts to make them more equal in population.

Now he has turned his attack to the state's two-thirds majority requirement for passage of bond issues. A decision in those cases is pending.

"It doesn't make sense when one no vote is equal to two yes votes," he says.

Missouri is one of about 20 states that has either state or local laws requiring more than a simple majority for passage of propositions such as bond issues or tax levies.

In recent months, judges in West Virginia, Idaho and California have declared invalid a requirement of more than 50 percent. The legal attack is also being waged in Iowa and Minnesota and "it's going to snowball," Preisler said.

Preisler is an unassuming biochemist-turned-lawyer who files "citizen suits," usually at his own expense, to protect "our democratic principles."

The tall bachelor organized a teachers union in St. Louis in 1930 only to find the school board forbade teachers from joining. His court suit to get the restriction lifted was successful.

His other suits, over the years, have established the right of school board members to be elected on a nonpartisan basis, the right of minority parties to have poll watchers and the right of a nonpartisan candidate to run for Congress.

Just before receiving a law degree in 1954 he successfully argued before the Missouri Supreme Court against a state senatorial redistricting in St. Louis. The districts were changed but, Preisler muses, he received "only a B" in the law-school course for which he filed the suit as a class project.

In 1961 he first challenged Missouri's newly drawn congressional districts as being

First Day of Moratorium Ends Quietly

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The muffled drums stuttered their funeral cadence, the bobbing candles flickered in the chill breeze, and the solemn "March Against Death" filed before the White House.

"My son, Timothy Clark," a middle-aged man with tears on his cheeks called out as he strode past the gate of the executive mansion, his slain son's name flapping against his coat.

The night grew colder Thursday and it rained but still it came, the long, procession—widely gaped by its own obedience to traffic lights—hearing candles and the names of Vietnam war dead, Vietnamese villages ruined.

Donald G. Clark, Victor Tomczyk, Jerry S. Baker, My Duc.

The first day of the second moratorium of the peace movement seeking an immediate end to the Vietnam War ended quietly. The second day, prelude to what could be the biggest peace demonstration in the nation's annals, began the same way as the march continued through the night.

The march, which began at dark in a tangle of commuter traffic, was all that was happening. There were no incidents.

The marchers said they would continue until dawn Saturday, until the name of every G.I. slain in the long war had been called to the President's house, then dropped in coffins at the foot of the Capitol grounds.

William P. Young, Hiep Hoa, Cleophas Harrison.

There was no response—nor had one been expected—from the White House, where Richard Nixon spent the night before flying today to Cape Kennedy, Fla., to witness the beginning of man's second trip to the moon.

During the day, the President had made a virtually unprecedented second visit to the House and the Senate, where he thanked the Congress for its support of his course in Vietnam.

While the Army remained on alert for trouble in Saturday's mass demonstration—preparing to quarter troops in the fortress-like Department of Justice for the first time since World War II—the "March Against Death" encountered a minimum of visible security precautions.

Washington police guarded intersections along the 4.2 mile route to direct traffic. At the White House, a sidewalk barricade was opened to allow the single file of marchers, headed by their seven drummers, along the wide sidewalk.

A few White House police stood inside the gates, sometimes returning smiles for the hellos tossed out by the marchers. More, however, were available behind the blinding floodlight installed before the North Portico of the mansion. No one could look at the house for more than a few seconds without turning away from the light.

There were students, hippies, housewives, businessmen, retired folks.

Towering above the early ranks of marchers was Dr. Benjamin Spock, the famed baby doctor-turned-peace marcher, bearing the name of one Jimmie B. Taylor of Philadelphia.

Some were pushed in wheelchairs, a few hobbled on crutches, some young mothers toted their young on their backs.

Mrs. H.H. Southward gives program featuring Accent on Arkansas Crafts.

Mrs. H.H. Southward of Southward's Ceramics, Hope, Ark., was presented by Mrs. Roy Stephenson, American Heritage Chairman, in a program to John Cain Chapter DAR, on Ceramics.

Mrs. Southward demonstrated the actual molding of a Christmas tree ornament for the group; mentioned that as the ornament came from the mold it is called "green ware"; then baked in the kiln and called bisque ware which can then be glazed, decorated and fired again. She had many examples of finished ceramics ranging from bowls, candle holders, boxes, Santa Claus, Christmas trees in various colors.

Besides Mrs. Southward two guests were present: Mrs. M.M. Ball of Washington, Arkansas and Mrs. Frank Turner of Kilgore, Texas.

Mrs. J.J. Battle, Chaplain, led the opening ritual. Mrs. Charles Taylor gave the National Defense program, relating the dangers of abandoning the present Electoral College. Mrs. John Keck, Regent brought the President General's message. The hostesses were Mrs. Charles Taylor and Mrs. Gordon E. Tyer for Thanksgiving and presided over a short business meeting.

At an outdoor rally in St. Louis at the Gateway Arch, Corretta King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., told 3,500 persons that the conflict in Vietnam was "not worth one drop of American blood." The rally was held in freezing temperatures amid snow flurries.

Across town, the Young Americans for Freedom sponsored a march to St. Louis University that drew 200 persons.

The Young Americans for Freedom at Ohio State University circulated a "Tell it to Hanoi" petition on campus to counter calls by the University's Student Mobilization Committee for a student strike today.

During the day Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said in Washington that even sincere demonstrators were "part of the international Communist movement."

Rep. William Jennings Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., said the moratorium is an attempt to reduce the President "to a cringing vassal and a stooge of mobs and demonstrators."

Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., told a college audience on Long Island, "It does not serve the cause of peace to indulge in inflammatory rhetoric that can only deepen the division in this nation."

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told an audience of 1,000 at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, that the war is "draining resources from healing programs to killing programs."

Bitter Cold, Snow Comes to Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Freezing temperatures and snow continued in parts of Arkansas this morning with up to a half inch of snow reported in the Fayetteville - Fort Smith area.

State Police said snow was continuing in that area at 9 a.m. and warned motorists to drive with caution as the state shivered from an authentic taste of winter weather.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said today that light snow covered 60 per cent of an area 60 miles wide from 40 miles southeast of Harrison to 50 miles northeast of Pine Bluff. This area of snow activity was moving to the southeast at nearly 25 miles per hour with little change in intensity and coverage.

Light snow flurries were predicted for Central Arkansas today.

The state forecast calls for a hard freeze tonight as temperatures drop into the teens in the north and range upward to the mid 20s south. Temperatures were expected to be cold today with highs in the 30s north into the low 40s south.

A high pressure system expected to control Arkansas weather for the next couple of days, keeping the weather cold.

Precipitation reported for the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a.m. today included .29 of an inch at Harrison, .12 at Jonesboro, .21 at Blytheville and .02 at Memphis.

Overnight lows around the state included 31 at Little Rock and El Dorado, 32 at Texarkana and Pine Bluff, 25 at Fayetteville, 23 at Harrison, 26 at Jonesboro and 29 at Memphis.

2nd Officer Killed by Panthers

CHICAGO (AP) — A second policeman died today of wounds suffered Thursday in a South Side gun battle between police and some members of the Black Panther party.

Patrolman John Gilhooly, 21, paralyzed from four gunshot wounds in the face and neck, died in Billings Hospital.

Seven others, six of them policemen, were wounded in the shooting which also claimed the life of patrolman Francis G. Rappaport, 36.

Rappaport's alleged assailant, Spurgeon J. Winters, 19, was shot and killed by other policemen who told of seeing Winters shoot Rappaport in the face with a shotgun as the patrolman lay wounded on a sidewalk.

Another youth, Lawrence Bell, 20, was wounded as he attempted to flee the building from which shots were being fired at police.

Authorities said both Winters and Bell were members of the Black Panther party, but it was not known if the shootings were connected with any Panther activity.

time of Gross National Product for the third quarter of 1969 was $342.8 billion, or 2.1 percent above the original estimate.

The increase amounted to 7.5 percent when spread over a year's time—continuing the pattern of the inflationary years, 5.2 percent of that was price increases while real production of the economy expanded by about 2.1 percent.

In a broad economic report, the department also noted that the federal government recorded a surplus of $7.3 billion the third quarter, considerably below the $13 billion surplus for the second quarter. The surplus—a goal of the Nixon administration—follow several years of deficits.

The federal government figures are on the "national income and product accounts" basis, which excludes trust funds and some loans which appear in the Budget Bureau's "unified budget."

Corporate profits are a key indicator of the state of American business. The Commerce Department reported that manufacturers' profits fell despite an increase in automobile industry earnings, which fell in the second quarter as a result of strikes but recovered in the July-September period.

Logan drew about 125 marchers.

In Pocatello, Idaho, about 250 persons, mostly students, marched in candlelight procession to a mock military graveyard with 1,000 small crosses in the Idaho State University quadrangle.

MICHAEL SEAMANS

Sgt. Michael W. Seamans, son of Mrs. Velda Seamans of Hope, was designated Non-Commissioned Officer of the Month in October as announced by Lt. Col. William W. Tomlinson, Squadron Commander.

Seamans is assigned to the 57th Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Lajes Field in Azores, Portugal.

The citation reads, "Be It Known To All That Sgt. Michael W. Seamans, by virtue of his demonstrated efficiency, devotion to duty and outstanding military bearing and appearance is hereby designated NCO of the month for October, 1969."

distribution system which knocked out the prime guidance system. A secondary system, which operates on batteries, took over. The prime system came back after only a few seconds.

After reaching orbit, the astronauts reset three circuit breakers and reported the electrical system was working properly.

As the rocket streaked out over the Atlantic Ocean, its millions of parts meshed, pulsed and interacted flawlessly and all three stages fired with precision during 11 minutes of flight to drill Apollo 12 into orbit more than 100 miles high at 17,400 miles an hour.

Shortly after the spacecraft staged, communications with the spacecraft were suddenly shattered by high static.

Conrad reported the spacecraft may have been hit by lightning.

Apollo 12 is to fire into lunar orbit Monday night. On Wednesday, Conrad and Bean are to attempt a pinpoint landing in the moon's Ocean of Storms to conduct the first detailed exploration of the lunar surface.

The astronauts had slept eight hours. They underwent a brief medical examination and sat down to the traditional launch day breakfast of steak, eggs, toast, coffee and orange juice.

Throughout the night, the launch crew was busy pumping more than half a billion gallons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into the fuel tanks of the Saturn 5.

Hundreds of thousands had come to watch the blazing departure of the mammoth rocket.

President and Mrs. Nixon and Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew were scheduled to fly here shortly before the launching. No American president had viewed a manned launching from Cape Kennedy.

The President phoned from the White House Thursday night and in a six-minute conversation wished the astronauts good luck and said he was praying for their success.

Although the weather was not expected to be perfect, the forecast was for satisfactory conditions, with partly cloudy skies, winds up to 22 miles an hour and temperature about 60.

Even though Apollo 11, man's first moon landing in July, was successful, space agency officials emphasized that flying to the moon is not easy and that danger lies all along the trans-lunar trail.

Apollo 12's goal is to make a pinpoint landing in the moon's Ocean of Storms and a start on a new age of exploration.

"Apollo 11 proved that man can land on the moon. Apollo 12 will start the detailed geological exploration of the lunar surface," said Conrad, who will command the 10-day mission.

As stunning as the Apollo 11 landing was in July, it was only a beginning. Apollo 12 is the first of nine moon landings planned in the Apollo program in the next three years to explore various areas of the moon.

Each will become more difficult, as the two-man teams attempt to land in such places as mountains and inside craters.

Thus, perfection of the pinpoint landing is a major goal of Apollo 12—to demonstrate future crews can touch down with confidence.

Apollo 11 missed its landing site by about four miles for a number of reasons, mainly action by the lunar module thrusters that altered the orbital path slightly.

"We feel with changes we have made in the procedures and in the computer inputs that we have a reasonable chance of landing right on target," Conrad said in a prelaunch interview.

All three men are Navy commanders and they selected seafaring names for their two Nancy Ross was presented in the State Honor Recital of Piano Players at Arkansas State College Nov. 8. This recital presented by the Arkansas State Music Teachers Association and to be eligible a student must have a high rating in district competition.

She had a grade of 96 in district and 98 in regional competition.

She is the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Ross of McCaskill and is a sophomore in Blevins High School. Her teacher is Mrs. Esther Mills Wood of Texarkana.

Fouke Collision Fatal to One

FOUKE, Ark. (AP) — A two-car collision Thursday on U.S. 71 south of Fouke claimed the life of Jimmie Dell Williams, 19, of near Fouke.

State Police said Williams' vehicle failed to negotiate a curve and struck a car driven by Howard F. Bailey, 71, also of Fouke. Bailey was hospitalized at Texarkana.

spaceships: Yankee Clipper for the command ship and Intrepid for the lunar lander.

"We think the names are fitting as we sail this new ocean of space," Gordon explained.

After an 83-hour outward trip across trackless space, the trio is to zip into orbit around the moon Monday night.

Conrad and Bean are to separate Intrepid and ride it to a touchdown on the eastern "shore" of the Ocean of Storms at 1:53 a.m. Wednesday. They plan to stay on the surface 31½ hours, 10 hours longer than Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

Conrad described the landing site as "gently rolling, pocked with small craters, but relatively smooth."

The target area is near a crater where an unmanned Surveyor spacecraft soft-landed in April 1967.

They hope to be able to reach the Surveyor to remove parts for return to earth, including a glass insulation panel, aluminum tubing, a piece of cable and the television camera.

"Evaluation of these parts will tell us how various materials have withstood 2½ years in the lunar environment," Bean said.

But Surveyor is located about 150 feet down from the rim of a 650-foot-diameter crater, on a 12-degree slope, and it may be risky to reach.

Bean said the Surveyor was a secondary objective to be tried only after every major assignment was completed.

GOLF GROUP MEETS

When the Hope Ladies Golf Association met at the Hope Country Club on Thursday, November 13, there were 10 members and one new member, Mrs. Mike Williams. Mrs. E. E. Wasell was hostess for a morning coffee at the clubhouse.

During a business meeting at noon, the president, Mrs. Henry Seams, announced that the annual Award Dinner will be Friday, November 21. When a Criers' Tournament was held, Mrs. Albert Bray was first and Mrs. Jim Pruden was second.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP GOES HIKE

Because schools were dismissed for the AEA meeting, Girl Scout Troop 311 went on an all-day hike on Friday, November 7. After the meeting at the "Little House," they were transported to the U of A Experiment Station by Mrs. Kenneth Petre, Mrs. Carlton King, and Mrs. Charles Beck.

Mrs. Beck pointed out sights around the Experiment Station as the girls, heavily laden with back packs and supplies, began their 5-mile hike. They viewed the greenhouse, cucumber sorting sheds, pine forest, fishing canes growing, irrigation pond, clubhouse, berry patches, grape arbors and many other things of interest.

Afterwards, working in small groups with the help of Kenneth Petre, the girls built fires and cut toastings for toasts and waffles for lunch. During the afternoon, they saw firsthand a few of the undertakings that make a great interstate highway as they explored drainage culverts and walkways, dirt pits, bridges, access roads and creek beds.

SENIOR CITIZENS MEET

Arrangements of yellow roses decorated the tables for the luncheon meeting of the Baber-Young-Williams club of Senior Citizens on Wednesday, Nov. 12 in the Community Room of the Douglas Building, 720 Texas Street.

After the invocation, given by Mrs. N. J. Burns, a delicious luncheon was served to 13 members.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Burns gave a devotional from Psalms, Chapter 119, verses one through eight.

Plans were made for Christmas party. After several games of Bingo and a drawing, Mrs. Kinser the door prize, Mrs. Yates dismissed the group with prayer.

The next meeting will be held at 2 p.m., Wednesday, November 26. All members are urged to be present.

PEO MEETS

Mrs. Wayne Pullen of DeQueen was a special guest of Chapter AE, P.E.O., on Tuesday, November 11 at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Jim McKenzie. Mrs. Pullen gave a report to the group on the national P.E.O. convention in Des Moines, Iowa.

Fall mums made the McKenzie home even more attractive, and President Mrs. George Frazier conducted a brief business meeting. A frozen dessert and coffee were served to 19.

Live, Color Films Are Expected

By DON MCKEE
Associated Press Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Live and in color from the Ocean of Storms, astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean will star in two TV moon specials—an early morning walk-on and a late, late show lasting nearly five hours.

The two moon shows will total 8 hours, 25 minutes and 11 separate transmissions during flight and on the lunar surface will cover 13 hours, 25 minutes. The first Apollo 12 telecast is set for 2:42 p.m. EST, about three hours after launch. At that time the lunar module, having separated from the third stage of the launch rocket, will dock with the command craft nose to nose. Scheduled TV time for the maneuver, 65 minutes.

No further telecast is planned until 5:47 p.m. Saturday when the world gets another look at the inside of the spacecraft in deep space. Duration: 35 minutes.

The next show is early—2:52 a.m.—on Monday, featuring a view of earth from about 200,000 miles away. Also on Monday: spacecraft activities and views of the lunar surface at 8:52 p.m. and 11:22 p.m.

The Tuesday program is short: 20 minutes at 11:12 p.m. featuring the undocking of the spacecraft and lunar module and formation flying prior to lunar descent.

First of the moon specials starts at 6:02 a.m. Wednesday and lasts 3½ hours as Conrad and Bean leave the lauder and begin setting up equipment for experiments before collecting moon samples.

How much of the telecasts is relayed by the public depends, of course, on the various television

HIS POSSESSIONS AREN'T FOR ENJOYMENT

Dear Helen: My husband buys things, then won't let us use them. He got an air conditioner for the house and car, but disconnected them so I couldn't keep cool during the day. Sometimes on Sundays he'd put the fuse back in. Said they used too much electricity (house) and gas (car).

He buys furniture, but makes us sit on the old stuff. He gripes because I use the dishwasher, and is always telling me I should hang my clothes on the line instead of putting them in the dryer. He checks the speedometer in our car and I have to account for every mile, or he takes the key.

I guess he's pound wise and penny foolish. He spends all sorts of money on possessions, but won't let us enjoy them.—WHAT GOOD?

Dear W.G.: Remind your husband these "possessions" are community property and his family has as much right to use them as he does, especially since most were brought for household convenience or comfort.

If you'll stop begin a Milwaukee, you may get something more than crumbs!—H.

Dear Helen: For seven years of our eight-year marriage, my wife has done everything in her power to make me feel like a worm. She belittles, criticizes, complains until I've about given up. I don't even work steady any more, and she never lets me forget she's supporting us. I drink more than I should—makes her jabs more bearable.

I missed a job interview last week because she left me with our two boys. Then she called me shiftless. That night she stayed out till 3:30 a.m. and a man brought her home drunk. I'm nothing more than the networks.

The second moon show starts at 12:42 a.m. Thursday and lasts four hours and 55 minutes. With the astronauts off-camera during their more extensive explorations, TV networks will have a visual problem. NBC plans to use marionettes to simulate the astronauts in one-sixth gravity environment.

The remainder of the Apollo 12 television schedule: Thursday—12:37 p.m., docking of spacecraft and lunar module for the return trip to earth, Friday Nov. 21—4:17 p.m., lunar surface. Sunday, Nov. 23—6:52 a.m., moon and earth views and spacecraft interior.

Booked for the television coverage are 51 nations, compared with 39 for Apollo 11.

Saved by Knit Ensembles

If you've got a limited clothes budget—and with the price of clothing today, who doesn't?—knit ensembles may be your salvation. The Orlon and other synthetic blends are practically no-care, which means no fuss for you. A knit skirt, vest, cardigan and slacks, can be mix-matched with any number of things as well as with each other. Wrinkles are nonexistent—and if you have got bulges, you should not be wearing knits. Two co-ordinated knit outfits can see you through the winter. If you plan well. And there's always that little take ten vest to liven things up

NEW YORK (AP) — On short notice, all three television networks provided live coverage of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's speech criticizing their news programs.

And the vice president accommodated the networks by finishing in time for the networks to pick up their regular entertainment series.

ABC and NBC resumed scheduled programs. On CBS, Roger Mudd summarized the vice president's criticism and read statements by the presidents of CBS and NBC defending their news departments.

There was no immediate postspeech analysis of the kind that Agnew criticized, but a roundtable discussion of the subject of the people who caught his fire could have been fascinating.

In one of those coincidences where television imitates life, "Ironside" on NBC had a story about an angry young hot-head arrested as the leader of an extremist, militant minority organization. When arraigned in court, the young man spat out a stream of insults to the judge and was jailed for contempt. A similar outbreak involving one of the Chicago Eight had been in the headlines days earlier, but the TV show was made weeks ago.

Angry, militant youth occupies many of TV's entertainment hours these nights, but the "Ironside" treatment was a sympathetic and well-balanced script about a young Mexican-American in revolt about the status of his people.

A particularly interesting performance was turned in by a TV newcomer named A Martinez, who in his first leading role made a vivid impression as the young man. Unfortunately, he played him as almost hysterical and as a man who seemed to need psychiatric help more than a sympathetic ear.

Dave Garroway, who has rarely been seen on the networks since he left the "Today show," has become one of Boston's most popular figures during the past year with an interview show on WNAC-TV. He is so popular that the show is soon to be syndicated to other stations.

Soft, Slinky Knits

Underthings are understated for the soft, slinky look of knit fashions. This season's sweater girl looks for subtly—and finds it in bras with little padding (usually some fiberfill) or no padding. Also covering new "underground" are stocking leotards—one-piece, short jumpsuits—for the girl who likes the almost-nude look.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

By ROGER DOUGHTY

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—It's blow out the candles time for the good old ROTC, 150 years old this year and still kicking (while being kicked occasionally). Whole thing got started in 1819 when Capt. Aiden Partridge, former superintendent at West Point, founded the American Literary, Scientific and Military Academy.

NO NAME BLUES—We're still scratching around for spiffy group names and/or neat names in search of groups. Milton, our mistreated mailman, has dipped into the envelope and found out that there's an outfit called Flower Pot and the Bad Seeds in Texas, one called the Ostentatious Elephant in California and a group known as the Leaky Submarines in Wisconsin. More to follow, as you send 'em in, with the person who sends in the best name (as judged by Raymond, our Automated Octopus) winning that something or other we still haven't thought of.

BOOZE NEWS—Purdue University's latest survey of high school students comes up with the information that 56 per cent of all high school pupils have had an alcoholic drink by the time they're 14. Interesting note is that in a similar Purdue survey in 1957, half the students questioned said their parents were teetotalers. In the current survey, only 36 per cent said their parents didn't drink.

SHOP TALK—Madison Avenue needs you, baby, and that's a fact the Market Executives Club didn't miss either. The Execs, who would like to sell you a few goodies, are set to huddle with Artie Kornfeld and Mike Lang, of Woodstock Festival fame, at a country club in the Catskills Dec. 4-6 to get the inside scoop on how to latch on to your coins. All very logical, since the festival came out a couple million in the red. Should be a real mind-blower.

PARTY TIP—For girls, from Ellen Peck, author of "How to Get a Teenage Boy and What to Do With Him When You Get Him." Says Ellen: "Other peoples' parties are to be used to talk to boys and boys only. Afternoons and at school you can shore up your girl-friendships. At a party, it's a waste of time. While your girl is talking with Barb, Irene will be running off with the guy you should be blinking at. So get the guy, and forget about Barb."

SOVIET SCENE—Word from Dave Kitay, a Long Island high school student recently returned from a study program in Russia: "The Russian kids were curious about hippies. They feel it's shameful not to work and can't understand flower children. Pictures of Lenin are all over the place, but the kids manage to ignore them. If you act curious about Lenin, they'll offer to trade you books about him for your clothes."

Picks State College Winners

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—For the first time since 1964, the Arkansas-SMU game will not have Southwest Conference championship overtones for SMU.

The Mustangs, however, would like nothing better than to salvage a losing season with an upset of fourth-ranked Razorbacks.

Arkansas led 35-0 last year entering the final period, but SMU, with Chuck Hixson doing the throwing, rallied for 29 points.

At that time SMU was 6-2. This year the Mustangs are 2-6. Hixson, for the second year in a row, leads the nation in passing. He has completed 173 of 287 attempts for 1,964 yards but the Mustangs have had trouble scoring.

Daryl Doggett, SMU's Mini-back at 5-foot-7, supplies the ground power. Doggett is second to Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett in the conference rushing statistics with 596 yards on 140 carries.

Arkansas is well aware of what SMU can do, but the Razorbacks have a little firepower of their own.

The running of Burnett, who leads the conference in scoring with 13 touchdowns, is complemented by the bruising bursts of fullback Bruce Maxwell. Burnett has gained 637 yards on 144 carries, and Maxwell has crunched out 463 yards on 83 attempts.

Arkansas' defense, which is leading the nation against scoring, will get a severe test. Those persons who were disappointed in Arkansas' 36-6 victory over Rice last week should be happier Saturday.

Arkansas 28, SMU 10
Arkansas State University can clinch at least a tie for the Southland Conference championship Saturday with a victory over the University of Texas at Arlington.

ASU was shocked last week when Drake gained a 21-21 tie after time ran out. The conference championship should make the Indians forget Drake.

Tech remained in the race last week and Harding may have reached a peak against Henderson. Tech also is at home.

Hull Returns to Skating for Hockey

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—His financial fringes apparently resolved, Bobby Hull will quit figure skating and return to hockey skating.

The Golden Jet, the National Hockey League's record scorer, announced at a mobbed news conference Thursday that he is rejoining the Chicago Black Hawks.

It was more of a capitulation as this shiniest of stars ended his season-long sitout.

Management brought him to his knees apologizing.

Bobby signed a four-year contract calling for a reported $100,000 annually a year ago. He didn't report to the Hawks this season because of personal and business matters involving "fringe benefits."

A battery of advisors, said to number as many as 17, and lawyers tried to tie things together mutually for both sides.

Much of it boiled down to Hull giving up his attention to innumerable outside business interests during the hockey season. Reportedly, also, he had borrowed money for business reasons from Black Hawk owner Arthur Wirtz on an agreed repayment plan.

The return of Bobby with hat in hand was forced mainly because the Hawks suddenly found themselves winning without

Boilermakers Could be Spoilmakers

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Boilermakers or Spoilmakers?

The Purdue football team likes to refer to itself as the latter, and although they are a 17-point underdog in Saturday's game with Ohio State, they think they can knock off the nation's No. 1 team in the college football game of the year.

The game at Columbus, Ohio, highlights a big November weekend in which many bowl bids likely will be decided.

Quarterback Mike Phipps, Purdue's master passer, is one reason and their record another. Purdue is 7-1 and 10th ranked nationally but it has beaten ranking teams such as Notre Dame and Stanford while not one of Ohio State's seven victims has a winning record.

Phipps has written such predecessors as Dale Samuels, Len Dawson and Bob Griese right out of Purdue's record books.

Phonics and Rex Kern, the Buckeyes' quarterback who has rewritten some records himself, also are prime candidates for the Heisman Trophy which goes to the year's outstanding college performer. Kern sat out last week's 62-7 rout against Wisconsin to rest his bruised passing arm for Saturday's game which is being billed as college football's game of the year.

It will be televised nationally at 1:25 p.m. EST by ABC.

The Buckeyes want to win it for prestige since they're ineligible for a return trip to the Rose Bowl. They have a 21-game winning streak going and a chance to become the first team to win two successive national championships since Oklahoma did it in 1955-56.

Purdue's incentive is to represent the Big Ten Conference in the Rose Bowl. Purdue is tied with 14th ranked Michigan at 4-1 and will need to win to stay in the running, especially since Michigan plays Iowa, a less formidable opponent than Ohio State.

The shoe was on the other foot last year, Purdue was No. 1 and favored to whip Ohio State but it didn't turn out that way. The score was Ohio State 13, Purdue 0.

Saturday also could throw some light on the Cotton Bowl.

Cotton Bowl officials plan to fan out to five, possibly six games in their final courting of prospective visiting teams. The games include Maryland-No. 5 Penn State, 7-0; Iowa State-Missouri, No. 8, 7-1; Nebraska, No. 17, 6-2 Kansas State; Mississippi State-Louisiana State, No. 12, 7-1; and possibly Auburn, No. 11, 6-2-Georgia, No. 16, 5-2-1.

Mississippi, tied for 18th at 5-3 plays Tennessee, No. 3, 7-0, but that game isn't on the list.

"We could always have somebody in Knoxville Monday morning," a Cotton Bowl official explained. "We're not giving up on Tennessee."

The various bowls across the country announce acceptance of their invitations starting Monday.

There has been some indication Tennessee might prefer to go to the Orange Bowl, and then there's a persistent rumor Notre Dame might change its policy against going to bowls.

Penn State and Missouri are prime prospects for the Cotton Bowl but the Sugar Bowl and the Orange Bowl want them, too. The Cotton Bowl's host team won't be decided until Dec. 6 when Texas, No. 2, 7-0, and Arkansas, No. 4, 7-0, meet for the Southwest Conference championship. Texas plays Texas Christian and Arkansas faces Southern Methodist on Saturday.

Team Will Honor Holy Cross Players

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The Sacramento State College football team held a secret meeting and then confronted a nervous Coach Ray Clemons with its demand:

"We would like you to ask Holy Cross if we could wear their jerseys the last game," the players told Clemons.

So, 55 purple and silver Holy Cross College football jerseys are on their way from Worcester, Mass., 3,000 miles across the country to the California capital, for the Hornets' Nov. 21 night game against University of Puget Sound.

The Holy Cross Crusaders played two games, then had to cancel the rest of their season when the entire squad developed infectious hepatitis.

The Hornets dedicated their season, 6-2 so far, to the Crusaders and sent them a get well card signed by all the team members.

"We got a tremendous response from the people back there," said Phil Dynan, sports publicist for the 12,000-student Sacramento school, part of the 19-campus California State College system.

It was then the Hornets, who normally take the field in green and gold jerseys, decided they wanted to do more. Clemons won approval of the college's athletic board and the purple and silver shirts will go into action again.

In appreciation, Holy Cross officials have invited Clemons to address the annual college athletic awards banquet in Boston Dec. 11. Invited along is Mike Carter, a player who gave impetus to the idea of playing the season on behalf of Holy Cross.

Holy Cross Coach Bill Whitton said, "We're very proud to have Sacramento State wear our jerseys. What they've done really has moved our squad and we appreciate it a great deal. I can't say too much about it."

Dynan said Clemons and the team has received about 50 letters from Holy Cross players and fans.

"It was a selfless act," one student wrote. "May the spirit that motivated you on this occasion be with you always."

him. They have a four-game winning streak.

The fans for the most part were mollified. They weren't screeching "We Want Bobby!" In fact, many of them let it be known that they were getting tired of hearing about his wampum wrestling.

General Manager Tommy Ivan said Bobby will have to skate himself back into the lineup and probably won't play this weekend against Oakland or Montreal in Chicago Stadium or next Wednesday against New York.

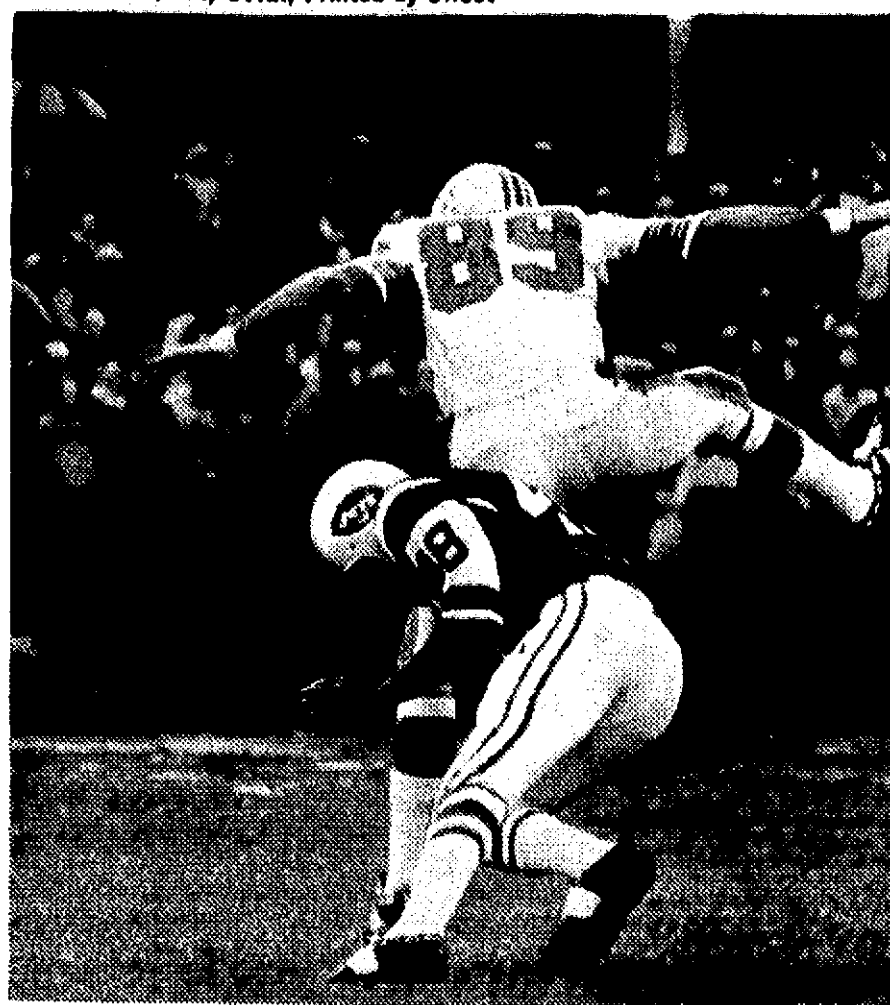

So humbled was Bobby, that he asked Ivan's permission to read a statement at the news conference.

He said all differences between him and the club have been resolved.

Bobcats and Nashville Play Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star SportsWriter

Homecoming marks the occasion tonight (Friday), as the Hope Bobcats host the Nashville Scorpions at Hammons Stadium with kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

This is the last home game for the Bobcat seniors, who have for known success until this year's 8-2 mark entering the Nashville and Arkadelphia finales. The Scorpions are 5-4 for the season and are the underdogs, but no one with any sense will count them out.

It should be a real crowd-pleaser, matching two of the most exciting runners in Arkansas in Nashville's Allen Ray and the Bobcats' Artis Martin. Ray scored five touchdowns in his first high school game last season, and since then he has been racking up yards by the mountains.

Artis Martin, who passed the 1000-yard mark in rushing yardage last week by increasing his total to 1024, is making a late run for the Region 4-AA scoring title and now stands second with 78 points, only four behind Jimmy Harris of Fairview.

Hope will be trying to win, of course, but also to improve its statistical edge over the rest of 4-AA. The Cats lead the conference in first downs (147), rushing yardage (2099), rushing defense (669), interceptions (18), the fewest passes had intercepted.

That is an impressive set of figures, but the kicking game also shows up with Ronny Brown leading 4-AA in extra points with 29, seven more than the nearest competitor, and in field goals with three.

The Bobcats want to show that all off for one final time before the home fans, and against the traditional rival Nashville. Hope hasn't lost in Hammons Stadium this year, either, and will go for a perfect home mark for the first time since 1964.

Nashville will give the Cats trouble for a while, because that's the way it is with Hope vs. Nashville, but the second half should bear out the best. The Bobcats will wind up with a 24-7 win, to make the record 9-2 before next week at Arkadelphia.

Homecoming activities will start at about 7:05 p.m., and KXAR's live coverage of the game will start at 7:00 p.m. Also, remember the Hope Booster Club's Annual Chili Supper before the game in the high school cafeteria, which will serve from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m.

Hope High students held a Scrapper funeral late yesterday afternoon complete with ambulance and casket, and the mock Nashville player was burned in a Hammons Stadium bonfire as the week's second pep rally evolved with increasing spirit and enthusiasm.

Fans Believe Their Knicks Are Super

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knicks are so good that their fans have begun to look for horizons beyond simply winning. Winning has become routine for the Knicks. Now the trick is to keep the opposition below 100 points. That's what interests New York fans these days.

The Knicks performed that feat for the eighth time this season Thursday night, whipping Chicago 114-99 and tying a National Basketball Association record for the fastest start with their 16th victory in 17 games.

Except for two hot spurts—18-3 in the second period and 13-3 in the third—which put the game under control, the fans' greatest excitement was reserved for the final moments. That's when the Knick scrubs—with buzzsaw Walt Frazier left over from the starters—pulled off a couple of steals to keep the Bulls from reaching the century mark.

That sent the fans home happy, a condition that is becoming normal for Knick followers.

In other NBA games, Philadelphia defeated Phoenix 124-110 and Seattle overcame Detroit 117-113.

In the ABA, Indiana took Miami 115-109, Kentucky whipped Denver 109-104 in overtime and the game between New York and Washington was postponed.

The Knicks fell behind in the early going against the Bulls and trailed by as many as 10 points in the first quarter. But there was hardly a furrowed brow in Madison Square Garden.

Sure enough, New York came back. Frazier, who wears muttonchops that would've made Sir Walter Raleigh proud, began sniping the ball at half court and feeding Willis Reed and Dave Stallworth for baskets. The momentum shifted quickly and New York moved out to a five-point halftime lead.

Most of the heavy work in the comeback was done by Stallworth Mike Riordan and Cazzie Russell, all in from the bench, along with starters Reed and Frazier.

Dave DeBusschere got in early foul trouble prompting Stallworth's entry into the game. "Stalls gave us quite a lift," said Red Holtzman, coach of the Knicks.

Reed, a bulwark under both the offensive and defensive backboards, led all scorers with 27 points and had 18 rebounds. Frazier had 20 and caused a good many of the 22 Chicago turnovers.

For the Bulls, Chet Walker hit 25 points, and Bob Love 24.

Calls SMU a Nightmare to Porkers

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Frankenstein movies may not bother Frank Broyles, but just show him a film of the fourth quarter of the 1968 Arkansas-SMU game.

"We're still having nightmares from that one," Broyles said.

The Razorbacks on their way to a 10-1 season led 33-0. The Razorbacks, on their way to a 10-1 season led 35-0 entering the fourth quarter and then had to recover an onside kick with less than a minute remaining to preserve a 35-29 victory.

Saturday at Dallas, the Razorbacks risk a 7-0 record and No. 4 ranking against the dangerous Mustangs.

SMU was 6-2 entering the 1968 meeting. This year the Mustangs are 2-6.

"They've been within an inch of putting it all together against everyone but Texas," Broyles said. "Really, I've seen the most freakish things in their films. Where they got the big play in 1966 and 1968, maybe a fumble has hit them this year. Or a dropped pass that would have put them two touchdowns ahead, like against Texas Tech."

Chuck Hixson, the nation's leading passer the last two years, threw four touchdown passes in that fourth quarter rally at Little Rock.

"He's the same Chuck Hixson," Broyles said. "Hixson is still the great passer and he has dangerous receivers and good runners. If anything, they're more balanced. "Their offense hasn't dropped off a bit," Broyles said. "They look just the same, move the ball just as well."

Only Texas has beaten SMU by more than 10 points and the Longhorns laid it on 45-14.

"I think they'd like to play everyone but Texas over," Broyles said. "They'd feel they had a better than 50-50 chance to win those other games."

Hixson and company are certain to offer Arkansas' defense, the best in the nation against scoring, its most severe test of the season.

Two Razorbacks, tailback Bill Burnett and split receiver Chuck Dicus, are closing in on Arkansas career records.

Burnett has scored 174 points on 29 touchdowns and needs 12 more points to break the record set in 1927 by George Cole, Arkansas' assistant athletic director. Dicus needs six receptions to tie the Arkansas receiving record of 83 set by Jim Benton in 1936-37.

Both Burnett and Dicus are juniors.

Arkansas is a 17-point favorite to make SMU its 14th consecutive victim.

Boston Bruins in Third Place

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Bruins are in third place in the National Hockey League's East Division, but they've set a club record by going unbeaten 25 straight regular season games at home.

The Bruins extended their unbeaten string at Boston Garden with a 3-1 victory over the Detroit Red Wings Thursday night.

Boston's last regular season home loss was a 3-1 decision to Oakland on Christmas night, 1968.

Race on for Individual NCAA Titles

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for individual titles in the college division of the National Collegiate Athletic Association appears destined to go down to the wire with most of the crowns up for grabs in the closing weeks.

Jim Lindsey of Abilene Christian leads in total offense with 2,318 yards and two games to go. Mike Junk of Morningside and Bill Dukett of East Stroudsburg, running two-three, already have finished their seasons. Tim Von Dalm of Portland State is fourth with two games to go but trails Lindsey by 283 yards.

Ed Bell of Idaho State tops the pass receivers with 80 for 1,360 yards and 16 touchdowns and two games to go. The runner-up is Chris Myers of Kenyon with 74 catches and one game to play.

Ole Gunderson of St. Olaf made a string bid to wrap up the rushing title with 261 yards in his final game for a season total of 1,591 yards but Larry Schrieber of Tennessee Tech has 1,303 yards and two games to play. Gunderson also leads in scoring with 132 points after scoring four touchdowns against Detroit in the finale.

The leading punter in the weekly statistics from the National Collegiate Sports Service is Warner Robertson of Maryland State with an average of 43.8 yards.

Out front in forward passing, challenged by Norm Lukey of Otterbein. Von Dalm had two games to go, Lukey one.

Hope Cage Schedule Announced

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Advisable to Find Cause Of Blood in the Urine
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am a man, 32. Recently I started passing blood when I urinate. What would cause this and what do you advise?
A—Blood in the urine may be caused by a kidney tumor, kidney stones, nephritis, renal tuberculosis, poisoning with various drugs, hemophilia or scurvy. Since this is always serious, my advice is to have a thorough study to find the cause.

Q—My urine is colorless. Is this anything to be alarmed about?
A—This usually means that the urine is very dilute or of low specific gravity. This may be caused by excessive intake of water. If chronic, it may indicate nephritis, diabetes insipidus, poor kidney function or a low protein diet. Your doctor should determine the cause. This will give you a clue as to its seriousness.

Q—I have casts in my urine. Is that serious?
A—This finding, usually coupled with albumin in the urine, is an indication of kidney disease. Prompt and effective treatment is required to prevent serious kidney damage.

Q—What foods cause albumin in the urine?
A—Albumin in the urine is an indication of failure of the kidneys to keep the normal blood proteins from passing into the urine. It is not the result of a faulty diet.

Q—Recently my urine has been bloody. What could cause this?
A—The most likely cause is a tumor in the kidney, an infection or a kidney stone.

Q—I have taken the urine test. It shows a positive result. What should I do?
A—The positive result of the urine test indicates that there is blood in the urine.

Q—I have taken the urine test. It shows a positive result. What should I do?
A—The positive result of the urine test indicates that there is blood in the urine.

So You Want To Be

The rising popularity of amateur photography and increasing demand for professional photographic services are creating many job opportunities for photographic laboratory workers, people who develop film, make prints and slides and perform related tasks such as enlarging photographs.

More than 30,000 are now employed in photo lab occupations, and almost half of them are darkroom technicians and the remainder are semiskilled and engage in photofinishing occupations. Most darkroom technicians are men, but women predominate in many of the semiskilled categories such as printer operators, slide mounters and photocheckers and assemblers.

Retirement and deaths alone are expected to create about 1,000 jobs annually, but even more important will be new opportunities related to film purchases by greatly increased numbers of amateur photographers in times of rising population and personal income. There is also a growing demand for photography in business and government resulting from an increasing variety of printed matter such as sales brochures, catalogues, public relations literature, etc.

Most darkroom technicians learn their skills through informal, on-the-job training. Beginners start as helpers and gradually learn to develop and print film by assisting experienced technicians.

Completion of high school is not generally a requirement for semiskilled jobs, but is frequently needed for advancement to supervisory jobs.

Employers prefer to hire darkroom technicians' helpers who have at least a high school education. Courses in chemistry, physics and mathematics are helpful to young people who are interested in this trade. Some high schools and trade schools offer courses in photography which include training in film processing. Some darkroom technicians also have received training in the armed forces. Two-year curriculums leading to an associate degree are offered by a few colleges and completion of such courses is especially helpful to those aspiring to supervisory and managerial jobs in photographic laboratories.

Information on income is now being brought up to date by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, but in 1966 beginning pay for inexperienced technician helpers was around $2.25 an hour, varying greatly depending upon such factors as skill level, geographic location, etc. Workers in semiskilled occupations earned up to about $3.50 an hour, and printer operators and chemical mixers generally had the highest earnings.

Factors to be considered in this employment include the fact that some of the work in the semiskilled occupations is oftentimes repetitious and the pace rapid. Too, some workers are subject to eye fatigue.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The outline of execution in France was originally enacted as a humane punishment. The World Almanac says its name is traced to Dr. Joseph Guiblain, who proposed the method to the French National Assembly in 1789. The doctor said that he sent a form of capital punishment which would not cause a physical suffering, and which would be used only on condemned persons.

lation that disturb me very much. First, the remote possibility of a one-dollar coin in a silverless metal, regardless of whom it commemorates, and second, the recommended design for the reverse of the Eisenhower dollar to show a symbolic eagle of Apollo 11 landing on the moon.

In the first instance, cupronickel coinage in any denomination has been a very humiliating experience for the people of the United States and one we are not likely to accept for some time to come. But to add insult to injury by issuing a silverless one-dollar coin is nothing short of a coup de grace to a coinage that was once the envy of every nation in the world.

The likeness of any great American on such a coin would most certainly not compliment the person nor the coin and to authorize such an issue in the name and commemoration of one such as Dwight D. Eisenhower should be vehemently opposed by every man, woman and child physically able to express disapproval to their congressmen. Eisenhower was an international personality and I am not sure we have the right to recognize him in any but an appropriate manner.

To depict man's accomplishments in space by including symbols connected with the Apollo 11 flight on the reverse of the proposed dollar is like carrying water on both shoulders while running downhill. This event should and could be celebrated on a separate coin without having to take from or share with the Eisenhower dollar. Both programs are worthy of individual pieces and, since we find it impractical to strike commemorative silver mementos of each, let's not embarrass history further by dividing our appreciation.

If you honestly believe the Treasury should issue a one-dollar coin commemorating Eisenhower in at least a 40 per cent silver metal, write your convictions on a post card and direct it either to your congressman or to Bennett at the Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. The decision is yours to make, not your congressman's. The time is short and, if public opinion is to be felt, it must be heard within the next few days.

MONEY CLIPS

by Mort Reed

There will be an Eisenhower one-dollar coin, that much is certain, but whether or not it will contain 40 per cent silver or no silver at all still remains a secret in Washington.

The House is pretty well divided on the subject and, according to Iowa Congressman H. R. Gross, unless we quit accepting coinage of no intrinsic value and an irredeemable paper currency, the Banking and Currency Committee soon will recommend the return of wampum as a final and humiliating form of a national circulating medium.

"The North American Indians used it and apparently it served them well in their primitive economy. If that does not do the job, I assume the Banking and Currency Committee will then recommend legislation to provide for what the Narragansett Indians called wampum peag, which is a cheaper form of wampum.

"It looks something like this which I hold in my hand, and it comes in all colors, just as does the scrap-metal money the silverless Eisenhower dollar legislation would authorize." And to demonstrate his point, the congressman displayed a handful of washers, bolts and locknuts he refers to as mini-wampum. "I see no reason why," continued the Iowa lawmaker, "these nice washers and locknuts could not be used for the payment of sales taxes."

The Senate resolution called for a silver-content Eisenhower dollar, with 40 votes for and 21 against. However, the House bill supporting a non-silver coin passed with 257 votes for and 65 against. From here on, the outcome will depend on Senate action and particularly on the personal decision of Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, who has been managing the legislation in the Senate.

At this point, there are two things in the proposed legis-

THEY'RE ENGINEERS. not medicine men, but Oldrich Jerabek, left, and Nicholas Verbicki have come up with something new in artificial hearts. The three-pound aluminum, silicon rubber and stainless steel pump is based on the rotary engine principle and is foreseen as a possible permanent replacement for a damaged human heart. Jerabek and Verbicki, both supervisors at Ford's Cleveland engine plant, developed it in co-operation with experts at Cleveland Clinic.

Get The Light From GOD'S LIGHTHOUSE

GUIDE YOU TO HIS CHURCH

not so loud

Do you blow your horn too loudly? Are you too boisterous? Are you playing in good harmony with your fellows? Harmony is a fine word. It means a high order of team work. We modulate our voice, our instrument, so it becomes lost in the ensemble. We make music together. Everyone of us is playing the game of life. How terrifying if we are not performing under the baton of the True Leader. Then, let us not 'toot' our horn too loudly. We must not lose sight of the fact that we are playing with others and for others. An ardent disciple said to the Master, "I will follow Thee, wherever Thou goest." What a resolve! Let us be true disciples and follow our Master to church to worship God every week.

We Need GREATER CHURCHES and a GREATER FAITH

Top Teams Could Get a Score

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
History says there is a good chance second-ranked Texas and fourth-ranked Arkansas will get the score of their football seasons this weekend against Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, respectively.

Good old logic and the odds-makers say both games will be as one-sided as the Alamo.

Texas rates a 24-point favorite over the Horned Frogs in Austin and Arkansas is an 18-point pick over the Mustangs in Dallas as the Longhorns and Razorbacks barrel toward their Southwest Conference showdown Dec. 6 in Fayetteville.

In the past decade, TCU has knocked Texas out of perfect seasons and possible national championships—in 1959 and 1961. No SWC opponent has been as successful against Texas as the Horned Frogs. The 'Horns lead the overall series 23-19-1. Five times in the last 15 years, SMU has either beaten or shaken heavily favored Razorback teams. The current all-time series is tied 21-21-2.

In other SWC games, winless Baylor is at Texas Tech, which is 3-2 in SWC play and 4-4 for the year while Texas A&M 2-3 and 3-5 is at Rice 0-4 and 1-6.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal is well aware of TCU's hex over the 'Horns.

"They've won four of their last five trips to Memorial Stadium and that's a pretty good track record," Royal says. "We are 7-5 against them since I've been here. The last time we lost a real big one to 'em we were 27 point favorites."

Royal heaps praise on TCU sophomore quarterback Steve Judy and running back Norman Bulach.

"Bulach is as good as anybody we've played," says Royal. "Judy is anybody's type of quarterback. I think he's a top top football player. He wasn't interested in us and told us so to start with and I appreciated that."

The Texas team has recovered from its bout with the virus.

Coach Fred Taylor of TCU just shakes his head when asked how he plans to stop the Texas Triple-Option with quarterback James Street at the controls.

He says "You have to decide if you want a slow death or a fast death."

Taylor says if the defense games up to stop the rushes of Steve Worster, Jim Bertelsen of Ted Key then Street will fire the bomb to flanker Charles (Cotton) Speyrer.)

A crowd of 55,000 is expected for the battle. TCU is 3-2 and 3-5 for the year.

Coach Hayden Fry of SMU says this has been "the most frustrating year I ever had had in football." The Mustangs are 2-3 and 2-6 and have lost numerous heart breakers.

SMU scored 29 points in the last quarter in 1968 before it fell 35-29 to Arkansas.

And the Razorbacks remember it well.

"We played as good defense as we've played since I've been at Arkansas for the first three quarters," says defensive backfield coach Hootie Ingram. "But that last quarter was a nightmare. Chuck Hixson (Quarterback) is a great one."

Hixson again leads the nation in passing, but the snakebit Mustangs have been unable to get across the goal.

Arkansas is its usual devastating self with quarterback Bill Montgomery, flanker Chuck Dicus, and running backs Bill Burnett and Bruce Maxwell the main weapons in the arsenal.

A crowd of 35,000 is expected in the Cotton Bowl to see the undefeated Razorbacks.

Baylor is a 14-point underdog in its tussle with Texas Tech in Lubbock where a crowd of 30,000 is expected. Baylor leads the overall series 19-7-1.

A&M is a 9-point pick over Rice in Houston. A&M is ahead 28-22-3 in the overall series.

All of the games begin at 2 p.m.

Two are Given Hockey Trophies

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Goalie Jacques Plante of the St. Louis Blues and former Blues' goalie Glenn Hall were presented the National Hockey League's Vezina Trophy Thursday night for the 10th time.

The award to the NHL goalie with the least goals scored on him during the season went jointly to Plante and Hall because they split Blues' goaltending chores last season.

The presentation was made by Brian O'Neill, director of administration for the NHL, prior to the Blues-Pittsburgh Penguins game.

The Ocean of Storms, destination of the Apollo 12 landing team, is the broad plain half-way across the moon to the west from the Apollo 11 touchdown point. Apollo 12 is targeted to come down a half mile or less from Surveyor 3, the unmanned U.S. space probe that softlanded on the moon in 1967.

Carrier Worked Overtime for Colonels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Darrel Carrier worked overtime for the Kentucky Colonels Thursday night and made it count.

Carrier scored four points in the last half minute of overtime and clinched a 109-104 American Basketball Association victory over the Denver Rockets. As if that were not enough, Carrier also scored the four field goals which pulled the Colonels to a 95-95 deadlock with 2:34 left in the fourth quarter, and sent the game into the extra session.

In the only other ABA game, Indiana remained a game in front of the Colonels in the Eastern Division by beating Miami 115-109.

In the National Basketball Association, the New York Knicks crushed Chicago 114-99, Philadelphia downed Phoenix 124-110 and Seattle overcame Detroit 117-113.

The Colonels and Rockets played on even terms in overtime until Carrier hit a field goal with 27 seconds remaining. Then, with one second left, he hit two foul shots to ensure Kentucky's 10th victory in 13 games.

Carrier's 24 points were second to Louise Dampier's 29 for the Colonels. Larry Jones scored 27 and Walt Platkowski 23 for the Rockets.

The Floridians set an unfortunate team record as they lost their 10th game in the last 11 starts and dropped deeper into the Eastern Division cellar.

The Floridians managed to tie the score at 100 with 4:18 left in the game, but Mel Daniels, last year's Most Valuable Player, scored eight points in the final four minutes to ice the Pacers' victory.

Daniels scored only three points in the first half but came back with 20 in the second half to lead his team's scoring. Miami was led by Larry Cannon, the $250,000 bonus baby, who also pumped in 23 in his first start for the Floridians.

Abilene C. Plays Leads in Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — The race for individual titles in the college division of the National Collegiate Athletic Association appears destined to go down to the wire with most of the crowns up for grabs in the closing weeks.

Jim Lindsey of Abilene Christian leads in total offense with 2,318 yards and two games to go. Mike Junk of Morningside and Bill Dukett of East Stroudsburg, running two-three, already have finished their seasons.

Tim Von Duhn of Portland State is fourth with two games to go but trails Lindsey by 283 yards.

Ed Bell of Idaho State tops the pass receivers with 80 for 1,360 yards and 16 touchdowns and two games to go. The runner-up is Chris Myers of Kenyon with 74 catches and one game to play.

LETTERS To The Editor

This your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address, so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

COMMENTS COMMISSION

Editor-The Star: As a citizen of Blevins community and a member of the middle-aged group, I want to take this method of expressing my heartfelt gratitude and thanks to the Arkansas Highway Commission for the good job that has been completed on resurfacing Highway 29 from Hope to Blevins and on to the junction with Highway 19, Nevada County. Also for resurfacing of Highway 24 from Nashville through Blevins and on to the junction with Interstate 30, two miles west of Prescott.

It is my thinking that a special day of appreciation should be set aside honoring the Highway Department, Mrs. John Harsh, Commissioner of Magnolia; Senator Olin Hendrix of Prescott, Rep. Talbot Feild Jr. of Blevins, Ark.

Apparently Blues Made No Mistake

Goalie Ernie Wakely had been kicking around hockey's minor leagues for a decade and had only two games of National Hockey League experience when the St. Louis Blues acquired him from the Montreal organization during the off-season as a hopeful replacement for retired veteran Glenn Hall.

At first it appeared the Blues may have made a mistake—in his first two appearances this season, the 29-year-old rookie watched a total of 10 goals zip by him.

But, Thursday night Wakely was superb, posting his first NHL shutout in his first start on home ice as the Blues turned back the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-0 to build to three points their first-place lead over idle Minnesota in the West Division.

Boston stopped Detroit 3-1 in the night's only other league activity.

Phil Goyette kept his big scoring string going for the Blues with a marker midway in the first period. He has scored at least one point in every game he's played this season.

Larry Keenan and Ab McDonald added insurance goals in the second period; then McDonald picked up his second marker of the night with five minutes left in the penalty-plagued game.

A total of 44 minutes in penalties was handed out in the second period, and the game total was 54 minutes.

The Penguins launched a bevy of furious rushes in the closing period, but Wakely withstood each charge as the Blues remained unbeaten in six home games this season.

Rookie Garnet Bailey and veteran Phil Esposito came up with power play goals 82 seconds apart midway through the final session to guide third-place Boston to within two points of East Division leader Montreal and one point of runner-up New York.

The two scored after Detroit produced a 1-1 tie at 6:20 of the final period, Billy Day converting a passout from Garry Monahan.

Silent Screen, who already has won $397,966 drew the outside No. 13 post position Thursday, but, nevertheless, was made the 7-5 morning line choice for the Garden State.

Mrs. Ethel Jacobs' High Echelon drew the No. 1 post.

Montana Has a Stingy Defense

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Western Montana, undefeated in five games, can attribute part of its success to a stingy defense, good enough to be ranked first in NAIA football statistics release today.

Western Montana has given up an average of only 135.8 yards a game. Alon A & M (Miss.) with a 6-0-1 record is only inches behind with a 136.6 yard per game average in total defense.

The rushing defense pacesetter is Whitewater State (Wis.) with 26 yards a game. Southern Colorado State is best in defending against passes with 64.1 yards per game.

The total offense lead is held by Stephen F. Austin (Tex.) with 478.1 yards per game. Through the air Anderson (Ind.) has averaged 303 yards to lead that category and on the ground the leader is Northern State (S.D.) with 299.6 yards a game.

Don Dalton is the individual passing leader after connecting on 104 passes in 223 attempts, good for a 264.9 yard average.

Chris Charnish, Plattville State (Wis.) retains his total offense lead averaging 285.9 yards a game and Bruce Cerone, Emporia State (Kan.), retains the pass receiving leadership. Cerone has caught 77 passes for 1,315 yards and a 146.1 yard average.

'In Conference'
You Usually Come Up With an Error

Yesterday this column explained the mechanical details of a color preprint ad scheduled to run in yesterday's Star. But as you may have noticed, the folio lines on Page One yesterday reported a total of 14 pages, when actually there were only 12—pages 7 and 8 being missing. You guessed it—the color preprint didn't run.

But it's in today's edition. We had to pull the color feature out yesterday for mechanical reasons and rather than delay the press run we let it go without reprinting to correct the page numbers. Here was what fouled us up:

There are two kinds of color furnished from outside sources. One is the supplement insert furnished by an advertiser, a completely printed product which we merely "stuff" inside our edition. Everyone knows about this. But a color "hi-fi" preprint such as we are running today is something else.

In today's case the advertisement is printed on one side of a roll of newspaper and the roll is shipped to us to be put on our press along with our regular rolls, and we furnish the black-and-white printing to go on the back side of the color page.

All the foreign color printer has to know is: Which way does the Star's front page come down to the press folder—right-side-up, or upside down? The Springfield (Ohio) Gravure Corp. asked us this question well in advance. Our organization held a consultation and wrote Gravure: "Right-side-up."

Why is it that a conference usually comes up with the wrong answer, while one person acting alone generally manages the correct one?

The color roll arrived, but when we came to run it yesterday we discovered the ad would be printed upside down—because, contrary to what we wrote the Ohio press people, on our press the pages come down to the folder head-first.

So we pulled out the color roll, took it over to Texarkana Gazette Thursday night and had it reprinted correctly. Newspapers are always bailing each other out of trouble. Texarkana's press staff spent several days in our press room a couple of years ago studying the offset process which they were converting to—so Thursday night they helped us.

This was our first "hi fi" preprint; so we made a mistake. How do conferences make a mistake that one man wouldn't?

I am reminded of the case of the fisherman with two hands. In one hand he held a crushed-up empty cigarette package; in the other, his cigarette lighter. Which one did he throw in the lake? You guessed it. His two hands were "in conference."

Search Centers at Paragould

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — The search for at least three men who led authorities on a wild high-speed chase through Northeast Arkansas Thursday afternoon was centered Thursday night in the Paragould area. State Police said the men, who were in a red and black car, were last reported near Paragould.

Officers said there may be as many as four persons in the car and that they were believed to have been involved in three house burglaries and possibly one armed robbery in the Cherokee Village-Hardy area.

The chase began northwest of Hoxie when Hoxie authorities spotted the speeding vehicle. Officers chased the car south from Hoxie toward Jonesboro at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour. A Hoxie officer said he fired several shots at the car, but was not sure whether he had hit it.

Accident Investigated

At 5th and Hervey Street yesterday cars driven by Curtis Ward of Hope and Delores May of Nashville collided with considerable damage resulting. City officers charged Ward with failure to yield the right-of-way. Officers said that Sixth had been made a through Street except at Main and Hervey is a through street except at Sixth.

MOON RENDEZVOUS? The Surveyor 3 spacecraft, which landed on the moon two-and-a-half years ago, awaits a possible visit from the Apollo 12 astronauts. Sketches show landing area and approximate distance Apollo 12 is planned to land from Surveyor 3. NASA hopes the Apollo mission will make touchdown near enough to the pioneering Surveyor so that the astronauts can walk to it and retrieve certain parts. Hughes Aircraft scientists, who built the Surveyor, have recommended which components could be brought back to earth for studies of what happens to electronics and other materials in the lunar environment.

Javits Raps Haynsworth Appointment

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits said today the addition of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court "would be a staggering blow to the cause of civil rights."

The New York senator, in remarks prepared for the second day of debate on the nomination of Haynsworth to the court, gave his analysis of Haynsworth's opinions.

Javits said that as far as the judge's rulings on civil rights are concerned "their common thread . . . is an insensitivity to the real meaning of 'equal protection' when it comes to racial segregation."

Javits previously made his opposition to Haynsworth known, but more than a score of senators still have made no public announcement.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and James B. Pearson, R-Kan., dropped out of the ranks of the uncommitted Thursday as the battle moved to the Senate floor.

This brought the Associated Press tally to 40 against Haynsworth, 37 favoring confirmation and 23 uncommitted.

Symington said he would vote against confirming Haynsworth, while Pearson issued a statement saying he would vote for confirmation but "with some concern."

Each disclosed his position before the debate's opening speeches by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and Hruska, ranking GOP member, both described Haynsworth as an outstanding jurist who deserves the support of the Senate.

Bayh, a Judiciary Committee member who has been a leader in the fight against the nomination, contended that Haynsworth "has not shown the proper sensitivity to ethical problems."

Moratorium on War Finds Some Support for Nixon's Policy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Church services, vigils and rallies today marked the course of the second Vietnam Moratorium as the nationwide Vietnam protest demonstrations headed toward a weekend climax.

Amid the protests, there were expressions of support for President Nixon's Vietnam policies.

Bustloads of demonstrators, many of them from colleges and universities in the Northeast and Midwest, headed for Washington to take part in the mass march scheduled for Saturday. A similar march will be held in San Francisco.

Generally the level of local activity was down compared with the first Moratorium Day on Oct. 15 as organizers concentrated on getting people to Washington where march sponsors expect a turnout of 250,000. There were exceptions. In Gallup, N.M., a city where no major peace demonstration ever had been held before, 100 persons turned out for a peaceful

Thousands Call Agnew in Response to His Challenge to Networks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thousands of persons telephoned television stations in response to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's challenge to "let the networks know that they want their news straight and objective." Not all agreed with his criticism of broadcast news.

A random survey of 21 radio and television stations across the country that tabulated the calls they received Thursday night showed Agnew was backed by nearly 3 to 1. Calls supporting his criticism totaled 3,296 to 1,389 calls opposed.

In his speech at Des Moines, Iowa, the vice president said that the networks allow commentators and newscasters to give a highly selective and often biased picture of the news.

Calls favoring the vice president were reported by the stations to include such comments as, "America, it's about time," "We're behind him," and, "His speech was the best I've heard in five years."

Opposing views were reported to include such comments as, "Who's paying for his air time?" and, "I don't like to hear a grown man cry."

A number of the calls opposing the speech criticized the three national networks for carrying the entire speech live instead of the regularly scheduled programs. Likewise, some of the calls favoring the criticism attacked their local stations for failing to present the speech live.

Many stations reported a heavy telephone response from the viewers, beginning before Agnew finished his speech.

In Oklahoma City, a switchboard operator at WKY-TV reported, "We got 350 calls, all praising Agnew to the sky. One said, 'Oh, Lord, you are wonderful. He said just what I've been thinking for years.' There were two against him."

WFAA-TV, the American Broadcasting Company affiliate in Dallas, Tex., reported 231 calls approving the speech and two against it. "I'm 100 per cent behind the vice president and I think the news media is responsible for all our troubles," one

Two Killed in Accident Near Prescott

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP)—State Police said today that two persons were killed and three others injured as the result of a one-vehicle accident near Prescott Thursday night.

Killed in the accident was Graham Warnix, 17, of Camden. Benton Moore III, 18, of Turrell died early this morning in a Little Rock hospital.

Injured in the accident were Mac Hart, 18, of Louann, Chris Russell, 19, of Pine Bluff and Kenny Beard, 20, of Blytheville. Russell was reported in satisfactory condition at the Nevada County Hospital in Prescott. Beard was reported in serious condition.

Police said Hart was the driver of the vehicle and the others were passengers.

Police said the accident occurred about 17 miles east of Prescott on Arkansas 24 when Hart, who was attempting to elude a game warden, lost control of the car and it overturned.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Book profits of American corporations before taxes declined in the July-September quarter for the first time since the 1967 economic slowdown, the Commerce Department reported today.

The profits fell $3 billion below the record set in the first two quarters to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $92.4 billion. It was another indication that the government's campaign against inflation is beginning to show results.

The department's Office of Business Economics said after-tax earnings would be $50 billion for the quarter, down $1.8 billion with dividend payments up by $600 million, retained earnings dropped by well over $2 billion.

At the same time, the department revised its preliminary es-

Heavy Rain, Lightning Posed Threat

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Apollo 12 astronauts rode their command ship Yankee Clipper into earth orbit through a lightning storm today to start America's second moon-landing expedition despite heavy rains that for a while threatened delay.

Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., 39, Richard F. Gordon Jr., 40, and Alan L. Bean, 37, thundered away from Cape Kennedy at 11:22 a.m. (EST) on a Saturn 5 super-rocket that blasted into the heavens and survived a possible lightning hit that momentarily disrupted communications.

"I think we got hit by lightning," Conrad called just after mission controllers reported a serious loss of data from the fleeing spacecraft.

Conversation between the ground and the spacecraft indicated lightning might have affected the instrument measuring unit which contains the rocket's guidance system.

However, it did not prevent the astronauts from achieving orbit about 117 miles high, the first plateau on a trip to the moon. Their goal is a pinpoint landing in the lunar Ocean of Storms where they will spend 7 1/2 hours walking the surface for man's first detailed study of another planet.

President and Mrs. Nixon were among thousands who braved a heavy downpour to watch the departure of the 36-story rocket.

Nixon, bareheaded in the heavy rain, watched the launch from a viewing site 3 1/2 miles from the rocket pad. He became the first U.S. president to watch a manned space launch.

It was the worst weather in history for an American-manned liftoff.

Observers saw two lightning bolts flash shortly after launch and the astronauts reported so many alarm lights aboard that they were unable to read them all.

Officials reported the spacecraft briefly lost its electrical

Pilkinton Visions an Independent

HOPE, Ark. (AP)—James H. Pilkinton of Hope said Thursday that if an independent is elected governor in 1970 the state might be better off.

"At this particular time in the development of Arkansas the crying need is for men and women who will put principles first and lay party politics aside for the good of the state," he said. "With the political climate as it is now in Arkansas and as it will likely be in 1970, I don't believe the organized parties, with their expensive primaries and internal bickering, can meet this need."

Pilkinton, an unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket in 1966, made the remarks after receiving an opinion from Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell concerning the requirements an independent must meet to get on the 1970 general election ballot as a gubernatorial candidate.

Pilkinton declined to say whether he was interested in running as an independent. He said that if an independent was elected the parties would have two years in which to "purge themselves, reorganize where reorganization is needed and make a fresh start."

He also said the governor would not be in a position to use his influence to harass the party out of power.
